BE FRIENDLY ON THE WAY.

I have journeyed on life's highway till the dial points to noon,
And I've learned some useful lessons on the way;
I have proved them o'er and o'er, and I prize them more and more,
And I think you can depend on what I say.
You may hold yourself aloof, and may think it is a proof That you're made of some superior sort of clay;
But you'll always find it pays in many different ways
To be friendly to the people on the way.

If the day is dark and dreary, and the way is rough and steep,
And some weary sister falters on the road,
You will never feel the weight, be the burden small or great,
If you turn about and ease her of her load.
And you'll see the time when a sovereign's merry chime
Will be a friendly offering most meet—
When to give a little sum, some mishap to overcome,
Will keep some needy sister on her feet.

I have learned that shabby garments
often clothe a noble soul,
And misfortune lies in wait for great and small;
Better help a friend to-day who is stranded by the way—
For who knows but that to-morrow
we may fall.
Then speak out before the crowd; let your voice ring clear and loud,
And put your heart in every word
you say.
For a friendly word, you know, or a face with smiles aglow, May help a downcast sister on the way.

THE HURRYING HOURS.

How often the thought comes home to me
As the moments hurry away,
Of the many things I intended to do,
Somehow, somehow, some time, some day.
There are promises that have not been kept.
Though I always meant to be true,
That time is too short for all the things
That a girl intends to do.

Today is the only day we have,
Of tomorrow we can't be sure;
To seize the chance as it comes along
Is the way to make it secure.

BROTHERHOOD.

It's the kindly hearts of earth that make
This good old world a place
It's the lips with tender words that speak
The rarest of smiles.
And I ask my soul this question when My lonely glances I see
Am I a friend to as many men
As have been good friends to me?
When we have time to speak a word of grace.

My wavering will to aid,
I ask if ever their long, long ways
My words have brighter made.
And to my heart I bring again
This eager, earnest plea:
Make me a friend to as many men
As are good, staunch friends to me,
Nixon Waterman.

BE KIND.

The deepest wound from which the heart hath bled
Is from the unkind thing that you or I have said;
Therefore, be kind, 'tis but bread on life's stormy waters cast.
To be returned in that restless turmoil vast.
Are you have realized the greatness of your little deed,
You, too, may have felt the need
Of some kind word from a sincere heart given.
That will light thy being like contact with heaven.

GOD'S PROMISE.

God hath not promised skies ever blue,
Flower strewn pathway always for you,
God hath not promised sun without rain,
Joy without sorrow, peace without pain
But he hath promised strength from above,
Unfailing sympathy, undying love.
Selected.

POINTERS FOR THE MOTOR-IST.

The Proper Care of Spare Tubes and Valveless.
The average motorist has learned by experience to take proper care of the mechanisms of his car, but he too often neglects his tires. Ordinary care accords spare envelopes and tubes is good insurance, and will save the motorist much trouble and money.
A few suggestions at this time regarding the proper care of tires may benefit the reader.
Never carry spare tubes unprotected in the tool box—they will inevitably come in contact with sharp tools and greasy substances, resulting in their serious injury. It is a well known fact that oil and grease are deadly enemies to rubber.
Exposure to strong light and varying degrees of temperature is also very injurious to rubber, resulting in its gradually and making it brittle. All of these dangers are averted by the use of water proof cloth bags made especially for carrying spare inner tubes.
These are supplied by all accessory dealers.
Motorists sometimes carry spare tubes in the original cardboard boxes.
The jolting of the car in motion causes the tubes to chafe against the sides of the boxes, eventually weakening or even wearing away the rubber. Unless the tubes are to be stored in the garage they should always be taken from the original boxes and placed in bags.
Most of the above hints may also be adapted to spare envelopes—exposure to strong light and dampness being particularly injurious. An envelope should never be carried unprotected on the roof of a car, or left uncovered in the garage. Waterproof wrappers or cases are made especially for the protection of spare envelopes, and their use will mean a big saving to the automobile owner.
In this connection the Michelin Tire Company, of Milltown, N. J., is publishing two instruction books which contain the information of value to the motorist. By writing direct to the above company, both volumes will be sent free.

THE COTTON PLANT.

All humanity wears cotton clothing, but few people, who live beyond the cotton growing area, know anything about the growth and development of the cotton plant. A cotton seed is an interesting thing. From it we get lard, oil and meal. The cotton plant in fruit is more interesting than any rose or peonied flower. Its growth and maturity furnishes an interesting study. The plant will mature in days or under cover in the Northern states. Get a package of seed and plant in a box in your store room, in flower pots at your dwelling or office or under canvas or glass if out of doors. Send two dimes to the undersigned address and you will receive post-paid a package of seed with instructions how to plant and fertilizer. You can then have an attraction that will interest yourself, your neighbor and your friends. Write to the Editor St. Pauls Newspaper, St. Pauls, N. C.

THE HOME CIRCLE.

Pleasant Reveries—A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as they Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide.

FEAR NOT.

Oh, dear not in a world like this And then shall know ere long. Know how sublime a thing it is To suffer and be strong.

—Longfellow.

Household Rubbish.
The best thing that could happen to the average house is to get rid of about half the stuff it contains. The habit of housekeepers should be to guard against household congestion. At this season of the year, when housecleaning is about to be done, it would be advisable for every woman to go over the house from top to bottom in order to get rid of this nuisance, says the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Many homes are not only filled up with a lot of rubbish, but they are filled up with fine articles that the overcautious housekeeper fears the air and sunshine might fade, an elegant rug, carpet or some fine drapery. Household furnishings that are too delicate to stand fresh air should be eliminated at once, as a careful and scientific housekeeper cannot afford to give room to anything that is not healthy and substantial. A house that is too fine for use is seldom kept as clean as it should be, for the reason that pure air and sunshine are excluded, and a home full of impure air is just as dirty as one where soap and water are used sparingly. Sunshine purifies, and cannot be excluded from the home that is well kept and clean.

It is often a good thing when people are obliged to move. It is then they will see the folly of collecting unnecessary articles of furniture that serve to crowd rooms and attract dust.

The Mother Who Laughs.

There are many conscientious fathers and mothers who make themselves and their children miserable by taking painful fancies too seriously. It is an ancient proverb that a child possessed of average good health and spirits to make other people laugh with him; not at him, but of things that seem amusing to the own sense. And the mother who takes the blithe and ready humor to enter into his fun becomes his most dominating companion.

He brags her rebuke and bends to her correction without ill feeling where sternness would arouse his pride and, for he is assured that she is ready to share all his innocent pranks, and that her disapproval has no foundation in impatience or injustice.

And when the day arrives that "childish things are put away," and the grown man and woman look backward to their early home with what a touch of pleasure they say, when things happen, "Mother would appreciate this," she had the greatest sense of humor of any woman I ever saw! And underneath these light words is the thought "How happy that dear mother made me, and how I love her!"

Good Humor.

It is not great calamities that afflict the children, it is the petty vexations, the small annoyances, the little humiliations, the "minor miseries," that make the home heavy and the temper sour. Don't let them. Anger is a pure waste of vitality. It helps nobody and hurts everybody. It is always foolish, and always dangerous, except in some cases, when it is needed by anger wrong done to another; and even then "the rage" seldom cures the matter. No woman does her best except when she is cheerful. A light heart makes kind hands, and keeps the mind free and alert. No mother does it so great as one that keeps the temper. All children are lost, nothing is lost—this.

Hint.

A little bag of material laid in the top of the pickle jar will prevent the vinegar from molding if the pickles have been put up in vinegar that has not been boiled.

Mildew stains may be taken out of white goods by making them in water in which a little alumina of lime has been dissolved. Use in the proportion of an ounce of the lime to a quart of water. Let it settle, then pour off from the sediment. Wash the goods afterward in the usual way.

If you spill your tea or coffee upon the "china tablecloth," soak it up as much as you can and then rub the place with some dry talcum. The talcum will absorb the moisture and so will make so much lighter that it will not be noticed. It is best to see the talc before the coffee because dry. Remove vegetable, or fruit, leaves, such as onion, etc., should be boiled in salt water to which they may be added their color and shape and flavor, which are destroyed in pure salt water.

DIXFIELD ITEMS.

The Happenings of the Week as gathered by the Citizen Reporter.

An interesting and inspiring discourse was that given by the pastor, Rev. W. E. Gaskin at the Universalist church, Sunday morning. Subject, "Christ's Example Seen in the Lives of His Disciples."

The concert and ball given in Tuscan Opera Hall, Monday evening, May 1st, by the Dixfield band, was much appreciated by the large number in attendance. The grand march was led by Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Sturtevant, followed by thirty-five couples. The music by the band of nineteen pieces added greatly to the enjoyment of the dancers. Refreshments of hot coffee, doughnuts, ice cream and cake were served at intermission by Welcome Bockelake.

The game of base ball played between the Rumford and Dixfield High School teams, Saturday, May 6, resulted in a score of 8 to 7 in favor of Rumford.

William Gaskin, son of Rev. W. E. Gaskin of this place has been appointed by the Y. P. C. U. of Massachusetts, to represent the Universalist church at the National Missionary Conference to be held at Silver Bay, New York, in July. Mr. Gaskin is a student at Tufts College.

D. W. Berry of Berry Mills, president of the Oxford Farmers Telephone Co., was in town, last week, in interest of the work.

Alfred Brown of Locke's Mills is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Walter Chase.

Col. Wm. Easton and family, who have been spending the winter in Dixfield, have returned to Paris for the summer.

SMASHING RECORDS TO RE-STORE BANGOR'S TELEPHONE SERVICE.

The fire which devastated the city of Bangor on Sunday was not considered under control until well along in Monday morning. At 11:30 Sunday night a new telephone exchange to replace the one which had been wiped out by the flames had already started on its long journey from a New York factory.

In this case, as in the case of many other disastrous fires, one of the first thoughts was the restoration of telephone service. Without telephones the people directing the work of reconstruction in Bangor were sadly handicapped, and it was with the realization that every possible speed was necessary that steps were taken to rebuild the burned out telephone system long before the flames had begun to subside.

As soon as the fire had reached the telephone exchange word was dispatched to the Boston house of the Western Electric Company, the concern which supplies all the Bell Telephone apparatus. From Boston a telephone message was immediately sent to the executive offices at New York, where emergency equipment is kept for just such a purpose. Notwithstanding the fact that it was on a Sunday, and it was late, so that the difficulty of assembling a working force immediately was decided, it was not very long before activities commenced at the company's factory, and seven trucks with drivers and sufficient workers were speedily assembled. The emergency force worked all night. At 8:30 p. m. the men had received instructions to ship the board to the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The equipment, weighing 25,000 pounds, occupied two cars. It was dispatched on the first passenger express leaving early Monday morning as its way to Bangor via Albany. The switchboard, which is considered adequate to take care of the telephone needs of the city until a new exchange can be planned and built, is being installed temporarily in a dance hall. It consists of seven sections and has a capacity of 2,500 subscribers' lines.

This record-breaking action is considered a remarkable feat. It is an illustration of the fact that every possible effort is made to prevent the interruption of a large sum of money, as in this case, in keeping on hand a ready emergency stock, is taken to prevent any serious interruption to the public service. A complete cessation of telephone service would be a calamity.

WHY HE DOES IT.

Druggist W. B. Rossmore Gives Reasons for Selling at Half-Price.

"It isn't often that I have faith enough in the medicine put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure," said Druggist W. B. Rossmore in one of his many contentments. "But I am glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that plan."

"The Dr. Howard Co. in order to get a quick introductory sale authorized me to sell the regular fifty cent bottle of their specific for half price, 25 cents, and although I have sold a lot of it, and guaranteed every package, yet one has been brought back as unsatisfactory."

"I am still selling the half price, although I cannot tell how long I shall be able to do so. Any person who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion or a general played out condition, ought to take advantage of this opportunity. If the specific does not cure them, they can come right back to my store, and I will cheerfully refund their money."

LOCAL HISTORY.

son, President, Elder, Voluntary by the church. Address to the people by Rev. Mr. Haver. Benediction.

"The service was an able effort, and was exceedingly well received by the audience, which was larger than the accommodations for them. A well trained choir, under Prof. Locke, executed the music, with great appropriateness. The house is 60x35 feet with 22 pews. The space is a very fine one and adds much to the appearance of the village. The walls of the building are covered with fresco paper. The gallery is elevated but a little above the pews, and between the entrance. The house is warmed by a furnace. Our friends in this enterprise are worthy of much praise for their perseverance, as well as their good taste in the construction of their house. The town is now well supplied with places of worship."

"The sofa, chairs and communion table in the M. E. Church edifice, just dedicated in this village, were made by M. H. Goddard. They are of black walnut, finished in oil, without varnish or paint of any kind, and for real, common sense, beauty of style and workmanship, they cannot be equaled. They would be an ornament in the school churches in the country; and they are so constructed as to be useful as well as ornamental."

The following clippings are from the Portland Transcript.

"Sept. 23, 1891. Bethel was visited by a terrible cyclone Friday afternoon about five o'clock. Trees were blown down and limbs scattered in all directions, and many windows were blown out of houses. The large steeple of the Methodist Episcopal church on Main street went down before the fury of the blast, and crashing through the roof swept everything into confusion—chairs, pews, etc.—nothing remaining except a chair or two. The walls alone were left standing, and they are in such condition that they will have to be taken down. Had the fall occurred a few hours later, at the evening prayer meeting, the loss of life would have been fearful. The cyclone has drawn attention to a curious fact. The Rev. H. Foster who died last spring just before he died dreamed one night that a cyclone passed over Bethel, and that the Methodist Episcopal church was ruined by the fury of the wind. Mr. Foster wrote his wife and told her of the dream. Saturday, more than a thousand people visited the ruins. The church was started in 1829 and 1840, at a cost of about $2500. Several years ago the building was put into a good condition at a cost of several hundred dollars. The past year $200 was laid out on it. The society had just paid up for all there was due on the church and parsonage, not owing one cent. Arrangements are now being made to rebuild. The sister churches say they will assist in helping hand, and the day is not far distant when a new church will be started on the spot."

"Oct. 21, same year. Z. A. Chapman, of Milwaukee, Wis., formerly of Bethel, has given $200 towards rebuilding the Methodist church recently destroyed by the cyclone."

Oct. 23, same year. The architect's plans for the reconstructed church all due for the Methodist church to Bethel have been arranged and work begun. The old walls, left standing by the cyclone will be cut down and used in the reconstruction. A variety will be added, and the plans provide for a bell tower, steeple, stained glass windows, and other of modern windows."

"Aug. 17, 1893. The new M. E. church at Bethel, is completed on the outside and the inside ready for the windows and doors. When completed it will be one of the best buildings in the county."

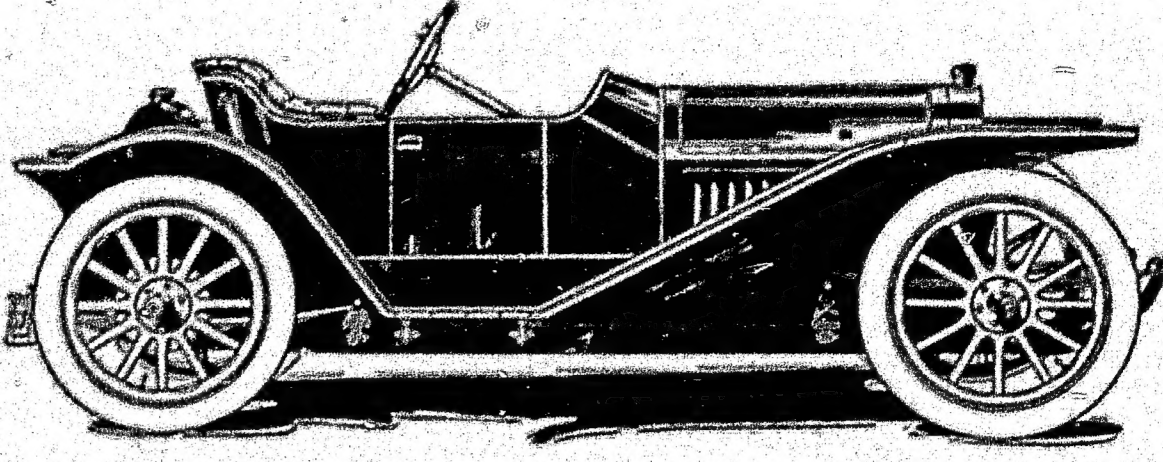

Rev. C. L. Broughton who seems to take a lively interest in the affairs of the world as well as in Heaven in the general progress of the church and the church to enjoy a good joke whether he gives or receives. With a person to him some little time ago. "One would, who does not know you, brother, never believe you are a Methodist preacher." "Why," asked Rev. Mr. Broughton, "because your clothes are made of such fine cloth," was the answer.

Again "I think your clothes better your congregation." "How's that," said the humorist. "Because the people of one of a free congregation in white robes, as they do in the church." "Will the clergyman," "I'll see you later," and went his way.

MEDAL FOR CARNEGIE.

Andrew Carnegie Friday received what he called his greatest mark of honor when 21 American republics bestowed upon him a gold medal bearing on one side the words "benefactor of humanity" and on the other "The American republics to Andrew Carnegie." According to John Barrett, director of the Pan-American union it was the first time in history that such a tribute from so many nations had been paid to an individual. Senor de Zamacois, the Mexican ambassador made the speech of presentation; Sec. of State Knox presided and Pres. Taft spoke in eulogy of the gifts which Mr. Carnegie has made for the cause of peace on this hemisphere and throughout the world. Members of the diplomatic corps and men high in official life filled the hall of the Pan-American union building where the ceremonies were held and for the erection of which Mr. Carnegie gave almost a million dollars.

In offering thanks to the nations through their diplomats present, for the honor bestowed upon him, Mr. Carnegie asked them to accompany the expression with the ardent wish on his part that prompt action should be taken by the republics to establish reign of peace by adopting Pres. Taft's policy of submitting all disputes to arbitration.

Mr. Carnegie announced today that he would give $100,000 in addition to nearly a million dollars already donated toward erection of the Pan-American union building, to be used for the artistic completion of its extensive grounds.

Gundy of Portland, the latter speaking for the automobile interests of the State.

Benjamin Priest of Canaan reached the 100th year of his life Friday. He is the oldest citizen in Somerset county. Life still has many charms for him and he looks ahead in living as much as one considerable younger. He has never known what it is to be sick, and aches and pains have never visited him. He walks about every day and passes on Memorial Day to feed the birds to the cemetery as he did a year ago, a distance of a mile from the village. Mr. Priest is a veteran of the Civil War and was born in Waterville, May 5, 1811. He was one of the first volunteers to enlist in the war and served for about four years, having been in active service nearly all that time. At the close of the war he became a farmer and has lived in Canaan and Clinton most of his life. He owns a cozy little home in the suburbs of Canaan village, and is often called the "Hermit of Canaan."
